A REACTION IN FRENCH RENTES.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 27-6 P. M. On 'Change to-day cotton was in moderately fair demand, but at a 1/c. per lb. decline in prices. Flour was steadier, wheat was more active and firmer, and corn was easy.

THE THANKSGIVING HOLIDAY. To-morrow (Thursday) will be observed as a strict holiday by the business community down town. The several boards have adjourned over to Friday, and no business of any kind will be transacted in Wall street, except, perhaps, the writing of a few letters of advice for the noon steamer.

THE GOVERNMENT GOLD SALE. There were eighteen proposals for the million of gold offered for sale by the government to-day, the bids at the Sub-Treasury calling for a total of $2,200,000, at prices ranging from 112 to 112,85. The sale was limited to the amount advertised. and the million was awarded at 112.66% a 112.85, the average of which was, as nearly as might be, the prevailing price in the Gold Room at the sam e

The money market was again easier, but the celaxation was still a matter of gradual progress. The highest rate on call was 1-32 and 7 per cent for the interval to Friday, or at the rate of 1-64 per day and 7 per cent per annum. Toward two o'clock gold interest was generally accepted, and long before the close of banking hours the rate went off to as low as 3 a 4 per cent, accounts having been made up early in the day in the preparation of the brokers for an early departure from the street. Mercantile paper, while still neglected and quoted as before, was not so unfavorably regarded, and the immediate future may see a yielding in the discount rate.

The foreign exchange market was dull early in the day for sixty day bills, owing to the easier tone of the foreign money market, and one of the leading drawers asked as high as 10834 for sterling, but soon after lowered the rate to 10834. and that for sight bills to 110. The market at the close was weak, with sales of prime sixty day bills at 10834; little or no inquiry short bills. The tendency of the former class of hills to strength is overcome by free sales of borrowed sterling, and the indications are that sight sterling is more likely to decline than long sterling to advance with a lower money market in London. The following commercial, 107% a 108; sterling, good to prime bankers', 108% a 108%; sterling, short sight, 100% a 110; Paris, sixty days, 5.35 a 5.30; Paris, short sight, 5.25% a 5.25; Prussian thalers, 70% a 71%; Antwerp, 5.32% a 5.27%; Switzerland, 5.31% a 5.27%; Hamburg, 35 a 25%; Amsterdam, 39% a BOX; Frankfort, 40% a 40%; Bremen, 93% a 94%.

THE FOREIGN MARKET.

As intimated in the preceding paragraph, the pations are indulged in that there will be an early reduction of the Bank of England rate of discount. Upon a second view of this matter this afternoon the impression prevailed that the Bank would hardly lower the minimum until the question of a further disturbance of the market and necessity for restoring the rate after its reduction had been placed beyond peradventure, so that if the mini-mum is not altered in the morning it will be because of a pursuance of the policy thus indicated. The street rate for money was reported to be down to 6 per cent, against the 7 per cent asked at the Bank of England. Consols hold the improvement of yesterday, while our five-twenties are % a % higher and the new fives strong at an advance of %. The ten-forties were not so firm for some reason, and were, in fact, heavy and a trine lower in early quotations. A reaction of 20 centimes in French rentes indicates a more settled feeling at Paris this evening.

The government bond market was buoyant and 14 a 14 per cent higher, the sudden improvement being the result of the renewed probability of an early call for a further redemption of five-twenties, not to speak of the great searcity of bonds and the approach of the season when the idle capital of the country drifts into these securities for investment during the dulness of the Winter and early Spring. The following were the closing prices:—United States currency sixes, 113% a 114; do. do., 1881, registered, 116 a 116%; do. do., coupon, 116% a 117; do. five-twentles, registered, May and November, 112% a 113%; do. do., 1862, coupon, do., 112% a 113%; do. do., 1864, do. do., 112% a 113%; do. do., 1865, do. do., 113½ a 113½; do. do., 1867, registered, January and July, 115½ a 115½; do. do., 1865, coupon, do., 115% a 115%; do. do., 1867, do. do., 115% a 116; do. do., 1868, do. do., 115% a 115%; do., ten-forties, registered, 108% a 108%; do. do., coupon, 10834 a 10834; do. fives of 1881, registered, 10914 a 110; do. do. do., coupon, 10914 a 110.

GOLD STEADY-112% A 112%. The gold market was quiet and steady, with a rather more active demand at the close, inter-preted to be from the importing interest in connection with the easier terms on which foreign ex-change was to be had. The first sales were at 112% and the lowest at 112%, the market closing with 112% bid quite earnestly. The steamer took out $134,000 in sliver bars. STOCKS MORE ACTIVE AND STRONG. Northwestern "corner" having gone into the past as a nine days' wonder, the street was more disposed to resume the regular routine of business, and prices underwent a general improvement, the final hour witnessing that incidental sudden advance so often noted as the forerunner of a holiday, the explanation of which has so much puzzled the philosophers who seek to divine the coming figures of the unrolling stock tape. Doubtless the desire to be "long" of a hundred shares of stock pending the chance of a lowering of the Bank of England rate of discount to-morrow in London, while Gould, Clark, Schell, Drew and Smith are at church giving thanks for the EDIFYING WORK past week, was one cause of the rise. But at a later period, or during the last quarter of the closing hour referred to, some of the buyers began to fear that Philadelphia, Baltimore, or even New York might be burned up over Thanksgiving, and so the stock was disposed of again, but the pyrophobists were in the minority and the market retained a good majority of its improvement. The "dead duck" Northwestern looked like an old friend returned from foreign parts, fluctuating as it did in the vicinity of 85, at which the venerable Mr. Drew was again offering his customary "puts for thirty days for one per cent." The question of the settlement or arrangement between Gould and was again variously discussed and the opinion expressed that Gould had agreed to ACCEPT THE BEST TERMS Smith had to offer rather than take the chances of a long lawsuit and possible eventual defeat in the otherwise more noticeable features of the day were the large advances in Lake Shore and Wabash and the decline in Pacific Mail. Lake Shore sold at 93%, the "bull" party therein being helped by Jay Gould, in requital for the good service they had done him Wabash was run up by Daniel Brew, so said, in order to enable him to get back a little of the money he had jost on "them 'ere Northwest sheers." Pacific Mail was depressed to 37 by the Stockwell or "bull" party, in order to entice a "short" interest. Erie was strong and one per cent higher than in London, and St. Paul advanced to 5314.

COMMERCIAL REPORT.

Cotton in Moderate Demand but Lower; Receipts at the Ports, 21,010 Bales. -Flour Steadier-Wheat Firmer-Corn Easy-Oats Firm-Pork Nominal-Lard Lower-Groceries Generally Quiet -Petroleum Dull-Freights Quiet-Naval Stores Active-Whiskey Lower. Wednesday, Nov. 27-6 P. M.

The trade movement was a little freer to-day; the bright sunshine, the first we have had this week, having seemingly inspired greater vigor into mercantile men and imparted a more lively spirit to trade circles generally. The National Thanksgiving to-morrow acts as a hindrance to business, it is true, merchants preferring to postpone commercial transactions until Friday wherever it is practicable to do so; hence there was less activity than there would naturally have been, though there was an increased movement in certain commodities, while the markets were almost universally buoyant and firm. The termination of the contest between the "bulls" and "bears" of Wall street was the occasion of congratulation among business men, though they were not affected by it, except, perhaps, indirectly. But these very questionable proceedings on the part of the leading stock speculators are universally deprecated and condemned by the mercantile public generally who are engaged in the prosecution of legitimate business enterprises. The flour market was duil, though rather some demand premarket was dull, though rather some demand pre-valled for shipping grades. Wheat was ac-tive at yesterday's prices, and in some instances a slight advance was established. Considerable purchases were made for export. Corn was also in much better made for export. Corn was also in much better demand, though prices were about the same. Whiskey was depressed and lower. Pork was quiet and held firm at the extreme prices current. Lard, on the contrary, was lower, but more active at the decline. Freights were steady, while vessels for charter were in demand, but generally wanted at lower prices. There was a fair business consummated in cotton, but at a decline of fully life, per lb. Groceries were quiet, with the exception of brisk movement in coffee, which was said to have Jac. per lb. Groceries were quiet, with the exception of a brisk movement in coffee, which was said to have brought full current prices. Petroleum remained dull, and quoted mominally as before. Naval stores were decidedly more active and ifmer, particularly for rosin, which sold largely at higher prices.

Corrent,—There has been quite a large movement since our last report, and the market remained very firm. ### THE NORTH MOORE STREET MYSTERY. It Is Not Fully Explained.

Coroner Herrman yesterday held an inquest at the City Hall in the case of August Schuldt, the German who died at 40 North Moore street under suspicious circumstances, as previously reported in the HERALD. Detective Field, of the Fifth precinct, who worked up the case, produced witnesses to show that late on the afternoon of the 16th inst. Mr. Schuldt was found sitting on the curb stone in West Broadway, near Duane street, with his feet in the gutter and his head bent forward. Near by stood his horse and truck, and one or two boys West Broadway, near Duane street, with his feet in the gutter and his head bent forward. Near by stood his horse and truck, and one or two boys intimated that Schuldt had fallen from his truck. He appeared to be much under the influence of fluuor, and, being taken to the Third precinct station house, remained there over night without uttering a complaint of any kind. The following morning Schuldt was taken to Court and discharged; but returning home to his wife soon afterwards, became sick, when it was discovered he had been injured about the head. He grew worse and died, as subsequently appeared by a post-mortem examination made by Deputy Coroner Cushman, from compression of the brain, the result of violence. It was not alleged even by the friends that the deceased had been purposely injured. In fact, there seems to have been no motive for any one to do so.

After listening carefully to the testimony the jury found "that August Schuldt came to his death from compression of the brain from extravasation of blood upon it, the result of violence received on the 16th day of November, 1872, in some manner to us unknown; but we believe by falling from his truck."

The widow of deceased, a highly respectable ap-

The widow of deceased, a highly respectable appearing lady, dressed in deep mourning, was present at the investigation and seemed in deep distress at the death of her husband.

On Tuesday evening while Rev. J. N. Stansbury and his estimable lady were, with their family and friends, busy in Library Hall, Newark, managing a concert in aid of Christ church, now in course of concert in aid of Christ church, now in course of extensive reconstruction, and of which the reverend gentleman is rector, burglars entered the rectory, in Congress street, and succeeded in making away with a fine gold watch and some money, in all valued at about one hundred dollars. No trace of the scoundrels has been discovered. As the plundered elergyman is universally beloved by Episcopalians in Newark and other parts of the State, it is hoped that he will be fully compensated in some way for what is to him a severe loss, especially considering the character of the cause he was engaged in whereby his house was left unprotected, the police being useless as protectors.
